

The Tennessee Honeys

Description

The Tennessee Honeys offer you something 'a little bit different' with their modern, contemporary country/party band image and music. This hugely popular band are ideal for weddings, themed evenings, party nights, festivals, corporate events and all types of functions.

Honeys sing and play popular, well-known modern country-pop classics and give each and every song a fresh country-pop feel which will keep your feet tapping and fill the dance floor. The band consists of 2 girl singers Angie and Jane, Matt on drums, James on guitar and Alan on bass guitar – sometimes John will join them on lap-steel, but generally the band is a five-piece outfit. All their music is performed and sung live – no backing tracks are used in their sets. Each musician and singer wears a modern country outfit in keeping with the band's style.