

George Porter

Description

With George Michael known for having one of the greatest voices in the world, due to his silky tone and incredible range, he has the ability to give a warmth to any song he chooses.

George Porter has spent over 25 years wowing crowds all over the UK and Europe with his ability to put any audience at ease and take them on a musical journey.

Having been compared to the great man himself on numerous occasions over the years, his greatest compliment came 10 years before he started the tribute. Whilst singing in a nightclub, George Porter was approached by none other than Pepsi, (one half of 80's pop duo 'Pepsi and Shirlie', but more importantly, one of Wham's actual backing singers and a close friend of George Michael himself), commented on how similar his voice was to George.
