

Made in the 80's

Description

Tony has been involved professionally in the music industry for over 35 years in a variety of guises most notably as one half of the multi award winning Blues Brothers On A Mission tribute show (Elwood Blues) which has taken him all around Europe for over two decades as well as performing his one man shows in several other styles of music from Swing right through to the Eighties and everything in between.

Tony is a true professional and has great pride in judging his audiences and delivering a tailored performance which is different each and every time and is filled with firm favourites, a few surprises as well as some great classics through the decades.

Tony spends quite some time working in Spain to residents, who return to see him wherever he might be performing as well as to Holiday makers and is always a fun filled event whether in the UK or Spain, leaving smiles on the faces of all who attend.

Tony is reliable, personable and very amenable with venues and clients alike, has the very finest PA and lighting equipment, Liability insurance and PAT tested equipment as required.
